ABA Frontline Compliance® – Self-Paced Courses – Bank Director Training

Beyond the Welcome: New Director Onboarding

You've joined the board of directors. What happens next? It's in every bank's best interest to equip directors to be as effective as possible as quickly as possible. This video for new bank directors digs into some of the fundamental concepts of corporate governance and explains in broad terms the qualifications to be an effective director, setting the stage for each bank's specific director training. Viewers will learn about key concepts such as serving as a credible challenge to management and finding the best ways to make their voices heard.

Length: 9 minutes.

Board Oversight: Bank Governance Structure

Bank directors function at the highest level of accountability in a bank's governance structure and must consider not only its shareholders but also banking laws and regulations, the protection of depositors and customers, and the overall health of the community in which it operates. This video provides an overview of a typical bank governance structure, including key committees and the role that a director plays in oversight, monitoring and addressing financial, operational, regulatory, and ethical outcomes.

Length: 4 minutes.

Board Oversight: BSA/AML/OFAC

Explores a bank board's key responsibility for overseeing the creation and maintenance of a culture of compliance with Bank Secrecy Act/anti-money laundering rules and the Office of Foreign Assets Control trade sanctions. This includes reviewing risk assessment findings, information systems and the resources devoted to compliance, as well as the bank's BSA/AML/OFAC policies and programs.

Length: 5 minutes.

Board Oversight: Compliance Control Activities

Explores a bank board's key responsibility for oversight of the risk management process by ensuring risk management policies and procedures are consistent with the institution's strategy and risk appetite. This includes setting and maintaining a bank's risk tolerance and ensuring that a bank's senior executives and risk managers have established compliance control activities, including prevention and detection.

Length: 5 minutes.

Board Oversight: Compliance Management

Explores a bank board's key responsibility for oversight of a bank's compliance risk management program. This includes establishing and communicating a bank's appetite for compliance risk, providing resources and support to effectively implement the compliance program, and reviewing the outcomes of the program and responding to elevated risk issues.

Length: 5 minutes.

Board Oversight: Credible Challenge

Bank directors are in a position of leadership to support and benefit bank management by offering supervision that facilitates the operation of a safe, sound and ethically strong organization. They do this by being engaged, asking questions, and eliciting any facts necessary to satisfy themselves that management's strategies are viable and, in the bank's best interests. This is "credible challenge".

Length: 4 minutes.

Board Oversight: Effective Compliance Management System (CMS)

Describes the importance of a Compliance Management System (CMS) as a comprehensive and integrated program that operationalizes compliance to include the management of risk associated with day-to-day operations, changes in product and service offerings, and new and changing legislation. Explores ways that the board of directors should implement a sound and effective CMS that ensures compliance with federal consumer protection laws and regulations.

Length: 5 minutes.

Board Oversight: Fair Lending

Explores a bank board's key responsibility for overseeing and supporting a bank's ability to meet the needs of its entire community. This includes oversight of bank policies and procedures to ensure it does not illegally discriminate, directly or indirectly, against existing or potential customers under fair lending laws.

Length: 5 minutes.

Board Oversight: Fostering Innovation

Explores In today's rapidly changing world, a successful bank's business strategy must include responsible innovation to provide new or improved financial products, services, and processes to benefit its customers and community. This video provides an overview of the role that bank directors play in fostering innovation in their bank in a manner that is consistent with sound risk management and is aligned with the bank's overall business strategy.

Federal Benefit Payment Garnishment Rule FFIEC for Compliance Professionals

A financial institution that receives a garnishment order must seize assets, including funds on deposit, to settle an unpaid debt. It must perform an account review to determine whether there is a “protected amount” that is exempt, freeze the protected amount, then seize any unprotected funds up to the amount of the order to tender those funds to the creditor. Learn how to determine the “lookback period” for an account review and calculate the “protected amount” that is exempt from garnishment. The course also covers continuing garnishment orders, customer notices, fees, considerations for closing accounts, record retention, and consequences for noncompliance.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 40 minutes.

Flood Disaster Protection Act for Compliance Professionals

This course covers the Flood Disaster Protection Act and related guidance and regulations. The course begins with an overview of the rule and then addresses the lender’s obligations throughout the life of a covered loan. This includes the steps a lender must take before originating a loan to determine whether the loan is covered and notify the borrower in the event it is. The course continues by exploring what it means to have adequate insurance at the time a loan is originated and finishes with the obligations lenders have during loan servicing.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 1 hour.

Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA) for Compliance Professionals

Explains how to distinguish which institutions and transactions are covered by HMDA requirements and how to avoid the assessment of civil money penalties. Explores how to accurately complete a Loan Application Register (LAR) and the importance of management involvement in this process.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 1 hours 15 minutes.

Homeowners Protection Act (HMDA) for Compliance Professionals

If a borrower is unable or chooses not to make a down payment on a home purchase of at least 20 percent, many lenders require that borrower to obtain private mortgage insurance (PMI). PMI allows these prospective buyers to obtain mortgage financing at affordable rates. PMI also protects the lender in case borrowers default on their mortgage payments when the house is not worth enough to entirely repay the lender through a foreclosure sale. The premium for PMI is included in the borrower’s monthly mortgage payment and varies depending on the type and size of the loan, the down payment amount, and the credit of the borrower. Many borrowers do not realize that eventually they can eliminate PMI premiums. This course explains how the Homeowners Protection Act (Act) establishes the right to cancel PMI, including three different types of cancellation and exceptions to the requirements. The course also covers required PMI-related disclosures and notices. Finally, the course describes suggested practices to build a control environment and consequences of noncompliance with the Act.

Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA) for Compliance Professionals

This course reviews the requirements of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA), including the disclosure requirements and the anti-kickback provisions, loan servicing standards, and escrow account management.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 45 minutes.

Reg Z Ability to Repay (ATR) and Qualified Mortgage (QM) for Compliance Professionals

Regulation Z (Reg Z), which implements the federal Truth in Lending Act (TILA), requires creditors to conduct an Ability to Repay (ATR) analysis for certain types of closed-end mortgage loans. Evaluating a consumer's ATR is complicated and can result in significant liability to the creditor if performed incorrectly. Therefore, Reg Z also gives lenders certain protections from such liability when making any one of several categories of Qualified Mortgages (QMs).

In this course, you will learn about the ATR analysis requirements, including exemptions and underwriting requirements. In particular, you will learn about the exemption from ATR requirements when refinancing a nonstandard mortgage to a standard mortgage. You will also learn about the QM protections, including criteria the loan must meet, the two types of QMs and the legal protection each offers, exceptions for small institutions and small creditors, and the seasoned QM provision that means that some loans that were ineligible to be QMs when originated may later qualify for QM status.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 50 minutes.

Reg Z Closed-End Credit for Compliance Professionals

This course covers the Regulation Z closed-end credit provisions that apply to mortgage transactions, including adjustable-rate mortgages (ARMs), higher-priced mortgage loans (HPMLs), and high-cost mortgage (Section 32) loans and lines of credit. Learn the specific right of rescission established by the regulation for mortgage credit transactions, as well as important provisions related to many other aspects of these transactions such as: mortgage loan advertising, loan originator compensation, pre-closing homeownership counseling, valuation independence, restrictions on prepayment penalties and prohibition against mandatory arbitration. Requirements for escrow account cancellation and servicing of closed-end mortgage credit are also explained.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 1 hours, 10 minutes.

Reg Z Foundations and Closed-End Non-Mortgage Credit for Compliance Professionals

This course helps compliance professionals develop a strong understanding of financial institution compliance with the Truth in Lending Act (TILA) and Regulation Z particularly as it relates to closed-end non-mortgage credit. Along with learning which types of loans and lines of credit are covered or exempted from the regulation, the course details the proper and timely disclosure elements for covered loans, including specific information such as: finance charges, annual percentage rate, pre-paid finance charges and related exceptions. The course also covers special provisions for loans secured by real estate and disclosure requirements for refinancing. In addition, the course addresses Regulation Z requirements for advertising closed-end credit.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 1 hour, 15 minutes.

Reg Z Open-End Credit for Compliance Professionals

Reviews the open-end portion of Regulation Z, including history, purpose, coverage, and disclosures. Explains rules relating to billing errors, crediting payments, credit balances, and advertising.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 50 minutes.

Reg Z TILA RESPA Integrated Disclosures (TRID) for Compliance Professionals

This course explains the specialized TILA-RESPA Integrated Disclosure rules related to the terms and costs, along with important timing requirements and other restrictions, for certain consumer-purpose mortgage loans. The course clarifies the types of loans that are covered by TRID, as well as the specific requirements for a TRID loan application, and explains the rules that drive information disclosure prior to the creditor providing the loan estimate. Also, the course describes the proper use, delivery to the borrower and revision of the closing disclosure when a loan is consummated.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 1 hour, 10 minutes.

Reserve Requirements for Depository Institutions (Reg D) for Compliance Professionals

Reviews the fundamental requirements of Regulation D and the types of accounts defined in the regulation, as well as the limits on transfer activity from savings and money market deposit accounts.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 30 minutes

Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act for Compliance Professionals

Following the collapse of the U.S. housing market and the resulting financial crisis, Congress sought to create solutions for ensuring a similar crisis would not happen again. The focus of the resulting regulations was on reducing the level of fraud in the mortgage lending process, and on increasing the level of consumer protection to guard against further industry-wide violations. This course explains how the Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing (SAFE) Act establishes a licensing and registration system for residential mortgage loan originators (MLOs) that includes education, testing, and background checks to ensure that person's suitability to provide this service.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 40 minutes.

Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA) for Compliance Professionals

This course provides an overview of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA) and other key legislations which have had an effect on the SCRA. The SCRA and its related legislations define the rights and obligations afforded to servicemembers and their dependents.

The course provides valuable information about the responsibilities of the financial institution to comply with the provisions of the SCRA and related acts in order to protect servicemembers from certain disadvantages while they are serving the country. While the SCRA applies to different types of organizations, the focus in this course will be on the sections directly impacting banks.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 1 hour.

Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act for Compliance Professionals

Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act involves accessibility in places of public accommodation, including banks. This course will show compliance officers how your bank can effectively address accessibility, auxiliary aids and services, requirements for ATM and website accessibility, and legal expectations when a branch is remodeled or the bank builds a new facility.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 45 minutes.

Truth in Savings (Reg DD) for Compliance Professionals

This course introduces Reg DD and the Truth in Savings Act (TISA), which govern a financial institution's presentation of deposit accounts to consumers.

The regulation covers everything from marketing a deposit account to disclosures when accounts are opened or changed—the entire life cycle of the account.

Disclosures include fees for deposit accounts, interest rates, annual percentage yields, and other account terms that are required by the regulation.

Member: $275. Non-Member: $375. Length: 1 hour, 10 minutes.

Unfair, Deceptive, or Abusive Acts or Practices (UDAAP) for Compliance Professionals

ABA-Wharton Leadership in the 21st Century

In an increasingly connected and fast-paced world, leaders can no longer succeed simply by exerting authority and telling others what to do. Today's successful leaders know how to create positive and productive organizational cultures. Leadership in the 21st Century was designed to teach you how to create a workplace where your employees thrive and your organization succeeds. You'll learn how to effectively engage employees, foster creativity, identify "givers, takers and matchers," lead with purpose and create a culture that encourages success. This course features the world's most acclaimed professors and their cutting-edge research on the qualities and behaviors of successful and unsuccessful work environments.

Leadership in the 21st Century will inspire you and your employees to make changes for the better, while giving you the tools you need to develop a positive strategy for leading your company into the future. The program incorporates cutting edge research on the qualities and behaviors of successful leadership to illustrate how to create an environment where employees thrive and step up to meet stretch goals for the organization.

ABA-Wharton Managing and Motivating Talent

People are the most valuable asset of any business—but they are also the most unpredictable and difficult to manage. While managing people well is critical to the health of any organization, most managers don't get the training they need to make good management decisions. Now, award-winning authors and renowned management professors, Mike Useem and Peter Cappelli, of the Wharton School, have designed a course to introduce you to the key elements of managing people.

Based on their popular class at Wharton, this course will teach you how to motivate individual performance and design effective reward systems. You'll learn how to create jobs and organize work for high performance, as well as how to make timely management decisions. You'll also discover how to design and change your organization's architecture. By the end of the course, you will have developed the skills you need to start motivating and rewarding employees in your organization so that your company can thrive both as a business and a social organization.

Wharton management professors Michael Useem and Peter Cappelli created this course to introduce you to the key elements of managing talent and motivating people. By the end of this session, you will have developed the skills you need to start motivating and rewarding people in your organization, so it can thrive as a business and social entity.

ABA-Wharton Managing the Value of the Customer Relationship

Today your best opportunities for growth may not lie solely in developing new "blockbuster" products and services, but rather, by more effectively selling to your existing customers—and finding new customers with similar attributes. This course is designed to help you identify your most valuable customers and maximize their strategic value. You might have the data and technology to track your best customers, but how can you meaningfully differentiate between them and the rest? How do you align your operations around these individuals? And how do you create and sustain competitive advantage from such practices? This course will help you radically rethink how you develop and implement customer-centric strategies, so you can:

- Make an informed decision about when to invest in customer centrality.
- Make the case for customer centrality in your organization.
- Find a balance between customer-centric and product-centric efforts.
- Decide what initial investments your company should make to achieve customer centrality.
- Choose metrics to gauge and guide customer-centric efforts.

Working with Non-Fiduciary Partners

Fiduciary professionals often work in a team environment, collaborating with private bankers, financial advisors, planners, and other non-fiduciaries. Karyn Salman, CTFA Advisory Board Member discusses responsibilities fiduciaries hold, and how to uphold these principles when serving clients through multi-discipline teams.
